

What is a Veterinary Specialist?

Just as your family physician may suggest that you see a specialist to further investigate a problem or receive a special treatment, your family veterinarian may suggest that your pet see a veterinary specialist. Each specialist on our team has undertaken extra years of study and advanced training within their discipline, in addition to the standard veterinary degree achieved by your family veterinarian. Our specialists are board-certified in their areas of expertise.

At VSEC, we offer the expertise of our specialists in Internal Medicine, Surgery, Critical Care, Neurology, Cancer Care, Dermatology, Ophthalmology, Physical Rehabilitation, and Radiology.

Our experts work as a team to determine the best possible treatment for the care of your pet. We stay in close communication with both you and your family veterinarian to assure that the appropriate decisions regarding your pet's healthcare will be made. Excellent team communication and collaboration will ensure that your pet receives the necessary follow-up care required to make a safe and speedy recovery.

Fee policy:

- The doctors and nurses will develop an estimate of your pet's anticipated fees. This estimate is based on your pet's current health status, but also allows for potential changes that may arise during your pet's stay with us. Next the estimate is presented and discussed with you in detail, allowing you to become familiar with the fees associated with testing and treatment options.
- A deposit of 75% of the total estimate is required before services are rendered. Payment of the balance is required when services are completed, and/or prior to patient discharge
- For your convenience we accept cash, personal checks, debit cards, Discover, Visa, Mastercard and Care Credit. Sorry, we do not bill.

How do I make an appointment with a specialist?

- Patients are seen by referral from your family care veterinarian.
- We request that you bring all pertinent medical information (referral history form, x-rays, lab results, prescription medications, etc.) with you from your family care veterinarian so your pet will not experience repeated tests unnecessarily.
